Grows Eloquent in

Booming Joseph P. Rose For the Legislature.

EDITOR MESSNGER:—Will you allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words in behalf of Hon. Jos. P. Rose's candidacy for the Legislature. In advocating the nomination of Mr. Rose, I realize that I have the approval of every Democrat and two-thirds of the Republicans of the counties of Morgan and Wolfe. Mr. Rose was born and reared on a farm near Hazel Green, and he has toiled all his life beneath the scorching rays of the summer sun in order to make an honest living. No person in need ever went from his door empty-handed, and around the "big hearthstone" in his humble cabin, his name will ever be wreathed with garlands of imperishable glory, and the wind harp of the forest will ever sing his praise. Although not a politician, he has worked valiantly for his party and enjoyed in its glorious victories.

Democrat of this, the 91st Legislative district, do you want the Licking, the Big Sandy, the Kentucky and the Red to stretch threads into the mountain home of hidden wealth and creep down from their heights, bearing on their silvery bosoms the rich fruitage of their banks? Do you want prosperity to shed everywhere her golden light?

If you do, nominate and elect "Hon. Joe" to the Legislature of Kentucky. Nominate him, gentlemen, and I promise by the Heavens that bend o'er me; by the hills that look eternal, by the streams that flow forever, and by the diamond stars that wander unwearied through the blue expanse, that his banner will never trail in the dust; but will be borne aloft by brave hands until its golden folds are unfurled on the topmost heights of victory. God Almighty is going to write the news of his election across the skies, and I can almost hear in advance the angelic bands of Heaven tuning their golden harps, getting ready to celebrate his victory.

Farm For Sale.

I have for sale within about half a mile of the city limits of Winchester, a farm of fifty acres, rich and well-improved, with frame residence of six rooms. There is also a large tobacco barn, nice carriage house, large barn with grainery and other out buildings; a fine orchard of apple trees in full bearing and a young pear orchard. The fencing is very good. The surroundings are attractive. I offer this farm for sale, having recently purchased it from Mr. L. E. Grigby. Call on or address B. W. TRIMBLE.

The Only Master Power.

"I'll master it," said the ax, and the blows fell heavily on the iron; but every blow made his edge more dull, till he ceased to strike.

"Leave it to me," said the saw; and with his relentless teeth he worked backward and forward on its surface till the teeth were worn down and broken, then he fell aside.

"Hail ha!" said the hammer, "I knew you would not succeed; 'I'll show you the way.' But at the first stroke off flew his head, and the iron remained as before.

"Shall I try?" said the soft, small flame. They all desisted the flame; but he curled gently around the iron and embraced it, and never left it until it had melted under his irresistible influence.

There are hearts hard enough to resist the force of wrath, the malice of persecution and the fury of pride, so as to make their adversaries' acts recoil on themselves; but there is a power stronger than these, and hard indeed, is the heart that can resist love.—Mrs. Prosser.

West Virginia Legislature in Session.

Both Houses met at noon on Wednesday. The Republicans elected Senator Marshall President of the Senate and the other caucuses nominees. In the House the Democratic caucus nominees were chosen.

Governor George W. Atkinson's message to the Legislature was an elaborate document on state affairs, in which he held that West Virginia ranked first of States in coal, oil, gas and timber. The Governor praised the part of West Virginia in the Spanish war, but expressed no preference on expansion. The indications are that the Republicans will have a majority of one on joint ballot.

Not So Worse.

A little girl in a neighboring town was much addicted to the use of slang. One day when she had been very naughty her mother said: "Now, Edith, you must go and shut yourself up in a dark closet, ask God to forgive you and stay there until he does." Into the closet she went, but in a minute she reappeared with radiant face. "Why," exclaimed her mother, "what did you come out so soon for?" "Oh, that's all O. K.," replied Edith; "but just tell God that I was sorry I go, and asked him to please let me out easy, and he said: 'Oh, don't mention it, Miss Jones! You are not so worse!'"—Ex.

Friends and Friends.

A block of marble belonged to the owner of a quarry. He kept it in a shed, carefully shielded from the weather; he permitted no one to take the slightest chip from it. He sold it to an artist for a hundred dollars.

The artist took the block and chiseled fifty different tools to chip and chop it, but in the end it was a statue, and sold for ten thousand dollars. Now, who was the true friend to the block of marble?

Of our friends some hamper and pet us, others pick at and peck us, wishing to make something of us. "Faithful are the wounds of a friend," but they often cost that friend the better part of our friendship.—The Lookout.

Who Will Go to Paris Exposition.

The Kentucky delegation is not agreed upon recommending Hon. J. B. McCreary for one of the twelve Paris Exposition Commissioners. It seems that Reuben Green, of Danville, has secured the endorsement of Senator Dubois and Representative Davidson, and they are anxious that he receive the position. In addition to this, Representative Settle has a candidate in the person of M. C. Alford, of Lexington.

Fourth Kentucky Order Mastered Out.

The Fourth Kentucky Volunteers, Col. David G. Colson, commanding, were Tuesday ordered mustered out of the service. Under the bill recently passed the regiment will be mustered out at once and the officers and men granted one month's pay.

"What Harm is There in Card-playing?"

The harm (1) of handling the tools of a gambler. (2) Of learning the method of making these tools. (3) Of coming under the influence of the tendency towards the tricks and trickery that so commonly go with the use of these tools. (4) Of entering even the outer circle of the kind of people who use such tools, and of coming under the influence of the tendency to be drawn into the circles that are nearer and nearer the wicked vortex of such things. (5) Of becoming familiar with, and a party to, the lowering of the principle of the lot, commonly called "chance," but really predilection (or prejudice) to the use of mere recreation. (6) Of risking the tendency toward the waste of time in prolonged play. (7) Of venturing into danger of not doing whatever one does to the glory of God, in the name of the Lord Jesus. (8) Lastly, even though it would do you no harm, there would be the harm it would do to others in any of these ways; and your daily petition, "Lead us not into temptation," makes it incumbent upon you not to lead anyone to temptation or to lead temptation to any one.—London Christian Endeavorer.

In Washington.

Mrs. Lily Dominis, formerly Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, has rented a modest furnished house on Fifteenth street in Washington and will hereafter hold court there, assisted by Miss McGuire, her "ady in waiting," and Mr. Helleluiah, her "lord high chamberlain."

President McKinley's wedding present to Mrs. Henry Harrington Scott, was Sampson, was the original of her father's now celebrated telegram announcing the destruction of Cervera's fleet. All of the guests praised Mr. McKinley for his delicacy in thinking of such a gift for the daughter of the victor.

PREVALENT EPIDEMIC

Of Gripe. Thousands Prostrated Throughout the Country.

Another severe epidemic of Gripe is sweeping over the country. In some of the large cities there are thousands of victims. It is said that there are so many deaths in Philadelphia that the undertakes can not supply the demand for hearses. The disease is epidemic in Washington City and many Congressmen and Senators are sick. The report is that this prevails to such an extent that an extra session of Congress may have to be called.

Petition for Pardon Voted.

Gov. Bradley refused to pardon Sam Clark the Mayfield tobacco warehouse man, who was sentenced to penitentiary for 10 years for killing Steve Carney, President of Tobacco Combine at Paducah in March of last year.

It is well to plan thoroughly, but it isn't consistent with our prayers for God's guidance, if we take it as an interference, when he doesn't let us do as we please.

Mr. Moody on the Modern Biblical Critics.

"If there is anything I want to impress upon you, Mr. Moody said, 'it is the importance of teaching the word of God. If I have any success in attempting to carry God's word to my fellow beings, it is because I believe in it—and in some particular part of it, but from cover to cover—and in view of the recent controversies on this very subject, I will say that any minister who doubts the Bible or any single portion of it, and so preaches in public, had better get right out of the pulpit, for he has no business there. He is doing the devil's work even better than the devil is doing it himself. As for me, I am somewhat glad the fight is on. We will, perhaps, know when it is decided, where we are at.' Anybody can pick at it, object to and disagree with the Bible. It takes neither brains nor heart to do that. But give me a better book if you can."

The Wool-Cleaner.

A clergyman in Wiltshire, walking near a brook, observed a woman washing wool in a stream. This was done by putting it in a sieve, and then dipping the sieve in the water repeatedly, until the wool became white and clean. He engaged in conversation with her, and from some expression she dropped, asked her if she knew him.

"Oh yes, sir," she replied, "and I hope I shall have reason to bless God to eternity, for having heard you preach at W—, some years ago; your sermon was the means of doing me great good."

"I rejoice to hear it; pray what was he subject?"

"An sin, I can't recollect that, my memory is so bad."

"How, then, can the sermon have done you so much good, if you don't remember even what it was about?"

"Sir, my mind is like this sieve that does not hold the water, but as the water runs through it, cleanses the wool; my memory does not retain the words I hear, but as they pass through my heart, by God's grace they cleanse it. Now I no longer lose sin, and every day I thank my Saviour to wash me in his own blood, and to cleanse me from all sin."

Truly a practical memory is the best memory.—Selected.

THE GRAVE OF ROMULUS FOUND.

The Nigger Lapis or Black Stone, Supposed to Mark it, Uncovered.

The Rome correspondent of the London Daily News says that a wonderful discovery was made on last Tuesday during the extensive excavations that M. de Baccelli is conducting in the Roman forum.

To the east of the Rostra Julia, about the middle of the forum, was found the celebrated Nigger Lapis, or black stone, marking the spot famous in legend, where Romulus should have been buried. He, however, tradition says, was translated, becoming a god. Excavations all around the place will be commenced immediately.

A BOYCOTT.

One of Poetry's Baneful Influences Was to Raise the Taxes.

He was looking over the stock on the depot news stand with great deliberation, taking up one periodical after another, and then laying it down with a sigh.

"Do you wish to buy anything?" asked the young man in charge.

Pulling aside the large ear-lap which obstructed his hearing, the customer, evidently from the country, exclaimed:

"Hey?"

"I say, do you want to buy something, or do you take this for a public reading room?"

He pulled his ear-lap around and tucked it care fully back of his ear so as to save trouble.

"Young fellow," he said, "I've got a long trip before me. I've got to travel 25 miles on a road which hasn't any competition and kin afford to take its time. I want something to read."

"Well, you find all sorts here?"

"You're right familiar with all this literature, I suppose."

"Intimate."

"Well I want you to recommend me to something that you've read sure, ain't got no poetry into it. I was prospecting around through 'em on my own account when you took notice, but it's hard to judge. I'll all look plain and straightforward as a country fair advertisement, an' the first thing you know, when you come to some of the leaves you run plump into poetry. It seems like they're bound to ring it in on you."

"What's the matter with you anyhow?" inquired the youth. "What have you got against poetry?"

"Never did you any harm."

"That's where you are wrong. Nothing has done so much to misrepresent the farmer in the eyes of the world as poetry. Look at the 'daisy' poetry. All summer they're singing about 'a daisy day an' a lazy lay an' the hazy hay' an' workin' the chances on it till you'd think that daisies was blessings straight from above. An' city folks pays five cents a bunch for 'em. They don't know that when daisies get to growin' in a field they come up so fast they push you up from behind when you're trying to weed 'em out. An' then there's slow poetry. 'Beautiful snow, like a silent song, drifting, blinding, quieting along' or words to that effect. City folks don't have to hitch up in three or four feet of it. When they get dazed 'o' seein' it around, they pay a boy 15 or 20 cents to shovel it off, an' that's all there is to it. An' then there's early morning poetry with nothin' said about the thermometer at zero in the sun, an' bird poetry, without a single qualifying on hawks an' chick-thieves an' all the rest of it. The public in general gets the impression that all the farmer does is to go around tripping meekly an' singing tri-a-lis, an' then it gets to figurin' an' wonderin' if it ain't time he was payin' a little more taxes for all them luxuries."

The President sent to the Senate the name of Joseph H. Choate, of New York, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain.

Mistakes the Best Teacher.

Henry Ward Beecher says: "A man who doesn't learn from his mistakes turns the best school-master out of his life."

Doesn't it seem too bad that we allow our mistakes to be our best teacher? Why don't we learn from other teachers so as to avoid these mistakes? Principally because we won't take the advice of those who have gone through it all.

A person would think a young man would not make the same mistakes in life that his father made; for, of course, the father would caution him against them, and he does; but the young man goes right on and falls at the same places. The greatest gift that a father could make his son, would be to transfer to him his experience; but experience is like character, not transferable.

From my own experience I have often likened a young person's short sightedness to a man having several veils over his eyes. At first, he sees very indistinctly, and goes groping around making all sorts of blunders. One veil is removed and his vision is a little clearer. Then others are taken off, each one representing some great lesson or revelation which he has received. Usually by the time all the veils are removed, he is an old man, and he wishes to help someone to remove them from his eyes. But the young man says they are all off, doubting that they ever were on, and plunges straight ahead.

So mistakes are inevitable—the question is, shall we learn from them? Don't make the same mistakes twice. You'll have enough without any duplicates. Make one go a long way and get so much good out of it, that you'll feel glad it occurred.

We are authorized to announce John B. Chenault, of Madison county as candidate for State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

I am a candidate for re-election as Railroad Commissioner from the Third Kentucky District, subject to the action of the Republican party. I base my claims upon long-continued loyalty to the principles of my party, and my earnest effort for its success, and faithful and conscientious performance of my official duties.

Respectfully,
JOHN C. WOOD.

I am a candidate to represent the counties of Montgomery and Menefee in the next Legislature of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party, and if nominated and elected, I promise to vote on all questions arising before that body in keeping with the will of the voters of the district.

HORSE JOCKEYING.

Our people are heart-sick with the horse-jockeying permitted on our streets every court day. We have called the attention of our Councilmen to this unsightly profitless business until we weary in beating the wind. The present law may be unconstitutional; we are informed this is the opinion of City Judge, Ben R. Turner. If it is not a law in accord with the constitution be enacted? We plead with our Council to use their efforts to put a stop to this nuisance and receive the applause of a long patient people.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

We are fully decided on one thing and have been waiting for an opportunity to carry our decision into effect. That opportunity came last week when Judge S. W. Hager, of Ashland, a gentleman unknown to us, informed us that he was a candidate for State Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic party. We were frank with him. We told him that any man had a right to make his announcement through the columns of the ADVOCATE, but that when we speak editorially of and recommend our people to support a candidate we must know that he is a man of intelligence, honor, moral and industrious, and withal a simon-pure Democrat. The fact is we shall support for the Democratic nomination only capable men with a high moral standard.

We have had enough of drones, of inebriates, of immoral men as mill stones to our party.

When an individual goes out to look for a man with whom he wishes to be associated in business, he inquires minutely as to his character, his capability, his energy, and will accept only those who possess the confidence of the people.

Our private business of more importance than that of public administration? The old Commonwealth is full of good men, capable men, and there is no reason why party exponents would be from cross-road politicians and chronic office seekers.

The best men we demand. This standard we applied to Judge Hager, not knowing how he would accept it, but he quickly responded, commending us for our stand and our faithfulness to our people, and wishing every other moulder of public sentiment could stand as firmly for right principles.

Judge Hager referred us to such men as Rev. H. D. Clark,

Judge John E. Cooper, Dr. J. B. Taulbee, Judge E. C. O'Rear, all of this city, who would testify to his standing as a citizen, and referred us to the fact that in a Republican county with from 450 to 800 majority he had been chosen County Judge, an office with the most important duties, as further evidence as to his standing as a citizen.

We are pleased with his statement and his references and heartily, gladly present his claims to just people for a careful consideration, who will elevate to positions of trust only men of character and worth.

In this issue of the ADVOCATE Mr. I. N. Greene announces as a candidate for the Legislature. His friends have had a hard struggle to get him to consent to make the race, and serve the people of Montgomery and Menefee in the next State Assembly. Mr. Greene is a farmer, and is also a thorough Democrat, not because his long line of ancestors have been adherents to the profound doctrines as taught by Jefferson, but because they are his after much study. No man has been more active in the success of the party than Mr. Greene. If nominated and elected he promises free from favoritism, untiring efforts in the interest of his constituency, as a people.

Be it said to the credit of Mr. Greene, when the Chicago platform of 1860 was adopted and he then almost unknown W. J. Bryan was named as our candidate for the Presidency, he did not falter, but stepped out on that platform, for it was his as it was the party's, and he never failed to talk Democracy at a time when it seemed the party would be split in twain. In Mr. Greene the people have an unfaltering Democrat, an active business man and a good farmer. We ask our people to seriously consider Mr. Greene's candidacy.

Hon. P. Wat Hardin was in this city Monday and spoke to the people on the political issues and announced himself a candidate for Governor, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Hardin made a good speech; he always does, for he is a good stumper. Mr. Hardin really wants to be Governor; he is really in earnest about it, so much so that he can't help talking about it. The time was when the people yielded to his pleadings and gave him the track, and while he was double tracked he wanted to be Governor so awfully bad that he undertook the race on a narrow gauge, the Cleveland bimetallic platform, susceptible of double construction and which narrowed, according to Mr. Cleveland's interpretation, to the single standard. In that race with the Republicans, lost in the minority, Gen. Hardin lost and allowed our banner to trail in the dust. Why commit the party to him now?

Dissolution.

On February 1st, the firm of T. M. Green & Co., of Grassy Lick, by mutual consent, will be dissolved and Mr. T. M. Green will retire. This requires an immediate settlement of all outstanding accounts, and we hereby give our friends notice. In the meantime we will sell at greatly reduced prices and strictly for cash.

No firm in the State will be able to sell slower than we will. Our stock is complete in every department and it will be our pleasure to give our friends the benefit of the reduction sale. Of course those who come first will get first choice of the stock. We are thankful to a generous public for their patronage, and by honorable dealing hope to continue in the future.

Very Respectfully,
T. M. GREEN & CO.

VESSEL GOES TO THE BOTTOM.

British ship Andellia sunk at Tacoma, Wash., with all on board, some sixteen persons.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 16.—The full list of those lost by the capsizing of the British ship Andellia, anchored in this port waiting a cargo, as far as obtainable, numbers 16. The ship, which was of English build, and worth probably $150,000, entered this port several days ago. She was then towed to an anchorage several hundred yards northeast of St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co.'s dock wharf at which point disaster overtook her. She had had out, according to the best information obtainable, the starboard anchor weighing at least two tons, while to either side of the vessel were attached the ballast logs used to keep a ship right during the absence of cargo or ballast. The ship was being towed serenely when the shipper of other vessels anchored close by retired for the night. When daylight dawned no signs of Andellia were visible. Over the spot where the ship rode at anchor the night before only a danger signal buoy lamp was visible. When the absence of the ship was discovered Capt. Doty and Capt. Burley took the tug Fairfield and made an investigation, and it was soon determined beyond possibility of doubt that the ship had gone to the bottom.

SPANISH FLAG STONED.

A Company of Tenth Regiment Infantry Deposes the Crowd of Cuban and Lower the Flag.

HAVANA, Jan. 16.—Sunday morning a Spanish flag having been raised over a hotel on the Calzada del Monte, a crowd of Cubans gathered and began to throw stones at it. Company B, 10th regular infantry, was called and proceeded to the scene of disturbance at double quick and with fixed bayonets speedily dispersed the crowd, which was fast becoming ugly. The officers in command explained to the proprietor that the flag ought to be lowered because it was likely to produce further disorder. The proprietor, in reply, assured the officer that no offense had been intended, and that having seen the English and German flags flying, he thought he would be at liberty to raise the flag of Spain. The members of the company lowered the flag.

THE DINGLEY FUNERAL.

Services Were Held in the Home Monday at Noon—A Distinguished Audience Was Present.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—In view of the long and distinguished services of the late Representative Dingley, the funeral exercises were held in the hall of the house and was in the nature of a state funeral. It was held at 12 o'clock noon Monday. Rev. Newman officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Condon, chaplain of the house. The president and members of the cabinet, the chief justice and justices of the United States supreme court, senators, representatives and members of the diplomatic corps were present.

There was a constant stream of letters, telegrams of condolence and cards pouring in at the Hamilton hotel all Sunday. They came from public men in all sections and personal friends of the family. President McKinley sent a very feeling letter in his own hand and expressing his grief and that of Mrs. McKinley.

He Shared Of Death.

PROHA, Ill., Jan. 15.—Corporal Block, whose end was predicted for Sunday by a local prophet, has staved off the death angel. Failing to secure an injunction from the state's attorney, he spent the interesting time in fasting and prayer. All of Sunday he and his relatives were engaged in prayer. Mosie law says the day ends at sundown, so Block felt safe after that hour and invited friends in to a great feast.

Two Soldiers Drowned.

HAYAKA, Jan. 16.—Corporal Friends E. Green, Company K, 4th Illinois volunteers, was drowned Sunday while bathing in the Alameda river. The body probably will be sent home for interment at Little Rock. The boy who was called the mascot of the 3d South Carolina regiment, was drowned in the same stream. His home was in Asheville, N. C.

Murder at Pass, Ill.

PASS, Ill., Jan. 15.—Sunday afternoon the Ingalls shot and fatally killed Dave Evans, a fellow Negro miner, at the Springville mine. The trouble arose over dividing their wages. Ingalls was captured and placed in jail.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people really realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn, and diarrhea after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is incurable because it can be cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Always Delicate

Child Was Nervous and Irritable and Had No Appetite

Hood's Sarsaparilla Has Changed All This—Scrofula Cured.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been a wonderful effect on my little daughter. She is five years old and has been very delicate all her life. She was nervous and irritable and had no appetite. A large lump would appear on her neck every few weeks and would disappear, leaving her very weak. We concluded to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. At that time there was a lump on her neck. When she had taken one bottle it had disappeared altogether and she seemed like a different child. Instead of being cross and fretful she goes about laughing and singing as merrily as any child. We are very grateful for Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. W. GAMMON, Bardonia, Kentucky.

SPIES AND THEIR WORK.

Do Their Duty, and Some Are Not All

Spies is an ugly word, according to the Latin, Col. W. N. Klenow, chief of the Russian imperial general staff, the men and women who engage in the business of spying are not "half-bad." Business? Yes. Klenow's book on spies, about to be issued in France, bluntly states that military and political authorities of the world over look upon espionage as a recognized profession. "Without espionage their work would be sadly lacking in direct purpose," says the author, and continues:

"Spies, or, as they are politely designated, secret agents, are no less a necessity in times of peace than in war. If it were not for spies one country would know very little about the mobilization of another, about on-ward movements to the frontier, about the spirit of foreign troops and the intentions of the commanding general.

"The employment of spies is usually entrusted to a high officer of rank and honorable standing. Above all, he must try to find out the persons offering their services are in financial straits or want to become spies to satisfy envy, hatred or political ambition. The first are liable to sell themselves to the highest bidder among the powers; the other category are always liable to alter their minds sooner or later, and when they do so it is usually to the detriment of the government which engaged them.

"A spy, to be useful, must be a good actor, must be courageous, a linguist, well versed in technical science, always on the alert, true to his master. Women make excellent spies; honest women as well as bad women. With many female spies the minister of war deals directly, sending them out on previous missions. Others are spies without knowing it, and the employer some good looking chap to make love to them and ascertain their husband's official secrets. A foreign military person in active service makes an ideal spy. If few numbers were I would not hesitate to say that 100 robbers to a foreign general staff officer who consented to betray his country.

"Above all, pay your spies well. Frederick the Great used to say a fellow who risks his head for your sake ought to be well treated. In the late war with Germany the French chose to disregard this axiom, with disastrous results. It was shown at Bazaine's trial that this marshal paid dispatch carriers, who had passed through the enemy's lines, from four to twenty francs for their services. That was bad business."—Buenos Ayres Herald.

Clearing for Guam.

One of the oldest maritime nations has received its deathblow by the raising of the American flag over Guam, in the Ladrones Islands. According to sailors, thousands of vessels cleared for Guam from ports all over the world each year, but none ever arrived there. Clearing for Guam was done by ships which wished to conceal their real destination. According to maritime law, when one vessel had cleared for a port it must proceed there by the most direct route or give a satisfactory explanation. Guam was a closed port under the Spanish rule and ships could always give that as a reason for not going there after having cleared for the place.

Doing His Full Share.

A Pittsburgh man who holds a public position which pays him $2 per day, and is consequently burdened with cares of state, was found by a friend one Sunday morning at three o'clock, sitting on the coping of the fence about St. Paul's cathedral, weeping alone.

"Hello, Billy," said his friend; "what's the trouble now?" "Before this was broke out," explained Billy, between his sobs, "the national debt was $128,280,000. Look where it is now!"

"Don't cry, Billy," said his friend, sympathetically; "with a tax of $1.10 per gallon on whisky no one can accuse you of trying to avoid discharging your share of the obligation."—Pittsburgh News.

A Regular Polyglot.

A gentleman in a rural district drew down upon his head a storm of derision from marrying a second wife shortly after the demise of his first. Two of those good ladies who look generally upon the surface of things, and who are ever ready with condemnation, were discussing the disgraced affair. "Why, my dear, there's his poor wife hardly cold in her grave, and he goes and marries another." "Dreadful!" declared the other; "I never heard of such a thing." "I should think not, indeed," went on number one, angrily. "Marrying wife after wife like that—why, the man's a regular polyglot!"—Cornhill Magazine.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 27.—Policeman Brown was wounded and an unknown highwayman probably fatally shot in Tacoma, Wash. A desperate duel between two masked robbers, a policeman and a saloon keeper. The three highwaymen burst open Peter Pepe's saloon door at Twelfth and K streets, calling on him to throw up his hands. Without further warning the men began firing at him. Pepe seized his revolver from a shelf and replied. Patrolman Brown heard the shooting and rushed to the scene. About a dozen shots were exchanged before one of the robbers was dropped with a bullet through his chest. His name is James Garrett, of San Francisco. He has been in Tacoma for about three weeks. Patrolman Brown was wounded in the chin. The other two men ran out of one of them left the door he fired at him and the man cried out as though he had been shot. The police began firing the vicinity for the two highwaymen.

SEW ON SUNDAY.

A Practice of Women That Seems to Be Growing Common.

"On these shut-in midwinter days the man who has a top-floor front room in a residence district, particularly if the house happens to be a story higher than those opposite, has a rare chance to study his neighbor's habits," said Mr. Sevier, a body sits by the window so as to catch all the light there is, and behind the broad pane life as it is lived, not merely in one or two families, but in a dozen, goes on right under his eyes.

"What strange life most in this panoramic view of my opposite neighbor's habits and customs is the number of women who sew on Sunday. The church bells ring, and the sound of the churchgoers' footsteps comes from the street below; but there at the sewing machine, placidly as if the hour were 10:30 of a Tuesday, or a Wednesday, or a Saturday morning, instead of the set-aside Sabbath. Two women in adjoining houses overlooking my windows embroider all Sunday morning. You can see them set their stitches slowly and diligently for awhile, and then clip off the thread and hold the linen square to the light to see the effect. One of them makes a practice of biting off her thread, and the other thinks that the dye in the colored floss is not good for her.

"Even if I could not distinguish the colors I can tell from the motions of a worker whether she is doing or merely fancy work or merely plain sewing. One young woman, who has noticed seams to keep a supply of small white garments on hand to sew on Sunday. I make her out to be a self-supporter who is employed on week days and devotes Sunday to doing her sewing society work. I understand that a great many women belong to church societies and take home garments to make up. These garments, when completed and returned, are sold, and in that way many girls who have no money can contribute to the charitable fund.

I know that the young woman who sews on the thin-looking little white garments on Sunday is employed during the week, because I see her go out of the house at a certain hour each morning and return at a certain hour each afternoon. Some of the women whom I see sewing on Sunday live in luxuriously furnished apartments. On a Sunday evening, when the occupants of such a room had omitted to draw the shades, I looked out on an interior and saw a room. Two men, one of whom seemed to be a caller, sat talking, and near them were a couple of children discussing juvenile books. Close to the lamp, at a side table, a woman sat embroidering, an expression of pleased interest on her face as she listened to the conversation.

"Now, I don't mean to say that there is any harm in a woman's sewing on Sunday, whether she darns stockings, as I understand a good many of them do, or embroiders, or sews on her sewing society work. I would never have thought of mentioning it at all if I had not chanced this winter to see how many do it, and how common a custom it has come to be. Owing to my bringing up, the six days that I have seen do all that thou hast to do" theory was dyed in the grain. The flavor of it clings to me still. I know that there are women in many parts of the union 10-day who are so deeply imbued with the traditional idea of Sabbath observance that they would blush to be caught with needle and scissors in hand on the Lord's day, and never on any account would they take a stitch after 12 o'clock on Saturday night unless pressing emergency demanded it.

Being this in mind, the sight of these comfortable, happily circumstanced women sewing away placidly, when other people are going to church and the church bells are ringing, a reminder, makes me think that a considerable leaving of the old-time rigor has taken place. I am told, also, since my attention has been drawn to the subject, that there are women who do not hesitate to sew on the machine on Sunday—clatter, clatter, clatter the whole morning through—when there is a dress to make or a couple of bodies to be stitched. A fair neighbor of mine in a lodging house confided to me that she was forced to give up her apartment because a woman in the room next to her (a well-appearing person, it seems) persisted in using the sewing machine on Sunday, a practice which she regarded as little short of monstrous. She said she liked to live with civilized people. Of this feature of Sunday sewing I have not my neighbors in the pretty window opposite sew only by hand, daintily, appreciatively, as though their occupation were more a pleasure than a task. The way that they do their sewing makes it seem to me that they are the old commandment on the table of stone that writing would be, or gossiping. Only when you think of the whole cities full of people in conservative parts of the country who would look upon their tranquil sewers as heathen, it puts a different face on the matter."—N. Y. Sun.

RACE OF PYGMIES.

English Traveler Marches Three Weeks in the Forest in the Heart of Africa.

UNLIKE STANLEY, HE TRAVELED ALONE

Not One of the Pygmies, on Measurement, Was Found to Be Over Four Feet in Height.

The Race Is Hardy and Fairly Intelligent—On the Anzani River He Found a Tribe of Warlike Cannibals, But Never Once Fired in Self-Defense.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Probably there has been no such interesting circling around Africa travelers and geographers since the time of Henry M. Stanley's expedition as has been caused by the arrival here of a young and hitherto unknown Englishman, Mr. Albert Bushnell Lloyd, from Central Africa, after a record journey of three months from the heart of Africa to London, traveling over Stanley's route down the Congo to the west coast. His journey was in one respect more remarkable than Stanley's, inasmuch as Mr. Lloyd traveled quite alone, so far as Europeans were concerned, and was only accompanied by two native servants and a small number of carriers. Moreover, although he marched three weeks in the Pigmy forest and then toward the Pygmy world of the Aruwimi river, the banks of which are lined with warlike cannibals, he never once fired a shot in self-defense. On the contrary, he was on cordial terms with both Pygmies and cannibals.

On entering the great primal forest, Mr. Lloyd went west for five days without sight of a Pygmy. Suddenly he came to a clearing and stopped at an Arab village, where he met a great many Pygmies. "They told me," said Mr. Lloyd, "that unknown to me they had been watching me for five days, peeping through the growth of the forest. They appeared very much frightened, and even when speaking covered their faces. I asked a chief to allow me to photograph the dwarfs, and he brought me a dozen together. I was able to secure a snapshot, but I did not succeed in the time exposure, as the Pygmies would not stand still. Then I tried to measure them and found not one over four feet in height. All were fully developed, the women somewhat sligher than the men. I was amazed at their stature. The men have long beards, reaching half way down the chest. They are very timid and will not look at a stranger in the face, their head-like eyes constantly shifting. They are, it struck me, fairly intelligent. I had a long talk with a chief, who conversed intelligently about their customs in the forest and the number of the tribesmen. Both men and women, except for a tiny strip of bark, are quite nude. The men were armed with poisoned arrows. The chief told me the tribes were nomadic and never slept two nights in the same place. They just huddled together in hastily thrown up huts. Memories of the white traveler—Mr. Stanley, of course—who crossed the forest years ago, still lingered among them. Mr. Lloyd then proceeded through the cannibal countries to the coast. He found the cannibals warlike and fierce, but open and straightforward and had no difficulty with them. At one place he put together a pile of dead huts and rods around the village. A remarkable scene followed, thousands of cannibals—men, women and children—turning out, shouting and yelling at what they described as "A European riding a snake."

Father and Son Drowned.

In Mercer county, near Cardville, Daniel Jennings and his son, Samuel, were drowned in a swollen creek on Friday. The body of the father was recovered. The wife and two grown daughters were drowned in Kentucky river a few months ago.

They All Want It.

The term of the Postmaster at Richmond expires in December. There is, however, a fight going on for the place already.

Started on a Tour of Europe.

Our reporter called at the home of Mr. John G. Winn to say goodbye to Mrs. Lizzie Pruitt, who was to leave on the 9:50 express on Saturday night for a tour of Europe. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Theo. Webb and daughter, Miss Kittie, and son George, and Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Judge Nelson, all of Winchester. Mr. G. W. Wednesday the party will sail from New York on the steamer St. Louis for Southampton, Eng. They will go direct to Paris, and after spending only a few days there and in Marseilles, they go to Genoa and Milan, then to Rome, where they will spend the winter, making detours to historic places. Leaving Rome they visit the principal German cities, returning to Paris, thence through England and Scotland. They expect to start for home about June 1.

We expect to give to the readers of the ADVOCATE some letters of travel which will be very interesting and a source of pleasure to the many friends of Mrs. Pruitt who read the ADVOCATE. Wishing her a safe and pleasant voyage across the deep and through the continent, we said goodbye.

Resolutions.

Whereas, God, the Grand Master Workman of the universe has seen fit to take from our midst by a sudden dispensation our beloved friend and brother, Jesse Burdette.

Resolved, That we deeply mourn the untimely departure of our brother, and hereby express our sympathy for the bereaved parents and friends, and further,

Resolved, That the A. O. U. W. has lost a faithful brother and Lodge No. 87 an earnest, zealous member whose memory we shall ever cherish.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our Records and also furnished his mother, and a copy sent the Kentucky Workman and the Mt. Sterling papers, with request to publish.

Do Not Throm Banana Peeling on the Pavement.

On Friday night as J. G. Trimble, Sr., was walking on Mayville street, going to the postoffice he stepped on a banana peel which some one had thoughtlessly dropped on the pavement. He was thrown with considerable force, but fortunately was not hurt. Any person who feels peeling on the pavement should take time to pick it off. Adults should know better than to thus endanger safety to life and limb and children should be taught.

Too Bad!

The request by the merchants of Lexington, Beatyville and Jackson for additional mail service, has been refused by the Postoffice Department. As the service now is Lexington merchants can not fill orders on day letters. Now, isn't that just too bad! We are progressive. The next cart and push boat of a few years ago are back numbers.

Selling at Cost.

To close out the business of L. Campbell all goods will be made up at cost. This is a rare opportunity to get the best prices in the latest styles at the same prices of hand-me-downs. Imported cassimere and genuine clay, beautiful in women's suits, go at this reduction sale.

A FOX-HUNTING COLONEL.

Reverend Dr. Williams, of Lexington, will command the Second Regiment, Kentucky State Guards.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 16.—Gov. Bradley has decided to make Col. Roger D. Williams, of this city, the colonel of the 2d regiment, Kentucky state guards. Col. Williams is the well known fox hunter, and is one of the officers of the National Fox Hunters' association. He is a warm friend of Gov. Roosevelt, and the governor asked him to get up a company of Kentuckians for his rough riders in the event he failed to get enough men from the west.

As a hunter of big game, Col. Williams is the equal of Gov. Roosevelt. They have hunted much together, and it was in the great west that they became acquainted. As a dog fancier Col. Williams is well known all over the nation and in England. He owned the first pair of Irish wolf hounds ever brought to this country, and has been breeding bloodhounds for years.

WAR AGAINST SALOONISTS.

Temperance Spies Out on Their Regular Sunday Rounds at Lexington and Meet With Warm Reception.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 16.—The war which has been bitterly waged between temperance people and saloon men over the Sunday closing law, culminated Sunday. Through the efforts of Bible students, who acted as spies, the temperance people obtained over 100 indictments against saloonists before the last grand jury. Sunday night spies started on the regular Sunday rounds and met with warm receptions. They were badly beaten up in some places and elsewhere were stoned. It is not known what action will result.

Murders at Carlisle.

CARLISLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—Burglars broke open two safes in the L. & N. freight depot Sunday morning about 1:30 and also attempted the third at the post office, but it is supposed daylight drove them away. The exact amount taken is not known, but it is estimated at about $800. The job was evidently done by the same gang who worked Winchester, Cynthiana and other towns. Officers are in pursuit of two suspicious characters, who have been lingering around town for several days. John Churchill and Curtis Kimbrell were arrested on suspicion.

Two Mortuous Women and Baby.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 16.—That mysterious woman and the baby, which she deposited on the roadside in Paris one night last week, have turned up again. This time the young woman took her child to the Protestant infirmary and requested that it be cared for, saying that she was unable to support it. Matron Gehring accepted the child, and will send it to the Foundling home in Louisville. Matron Gehring says she does not know the woman.

Tom Lanning's Condition.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—Pugilist Tom Lanning, who sustained a blood clot on the brain as a result of a blow delivered in a contest with Jack Root at Chicago, is much improved and will recover. A peculiar feature of the case is that his eyes have been crossed ever since the injury and his physicians fear they will remain that way.

John Hall's Narrow Escape.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 16.—John Hall, a carpenter, escaped a "head-on" collision with an incoming Chesapeake & Ohio train at Broad and Water streets Sunday night. Though tossed fully 50 feet by the cowcatcher, Hall was not even bruised.

Claims Self-Defense.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—August Kirm, who killed James Barnett during a quarrel Wednesday night by striking him over the head with a bar of iron, has admitted his guilt, but claims he did it in self-defense. He will have his examining trial Tuesday next.

The Men On Ice.

BREXTON, Ky., Jan. 16.—The waters in this county continue to rise. The streams are all out of their banks and doing considerable damage. The mails are cut off, carriers being unable to ford the swollen streams.

Licking River on a Rampage.

PARKER, Ky., Jan. 16.—The Licking river is in a great and still rising. The principal part of this town is under water. Logs and drift are running thick. High wind is doing much damage to fencing and board sidewalks.

Judge Fleming a Candidate.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—Judge W. B. Fleming, of this city, announced himself a candidate for the democratic nomination for attorney general Sunday evening.

A dispatch to the city papers from our neighboring city of Paris says through the efforts of the Rev. Father of Ladies Clubs of Paris the city will within the coming year be presented with a handsome public library to cost $10,000.

Funeral designs, and decorations furnished on short notice by the Mt. Sterling Floral Co. 22-17

January Court Day.

About 800 cattle in the market, quality medium no good feeders on the market. Some fair yearlings that sold high. Heifers were higher than last court. Trade was fairly brisk. The day was a miserable mess one but buyers were plentiful and ready to take all the stock offered. Cows were very high and sold for as much as $34. No buyers from other states but all portions of Kentucky were represented.

The best feeders sold at 4.40 most of the sales at 4 to 4 1/2, yearlings at 4 1/2, feeders at 4 to 3 1/2, cows 2 1/2 to 3 1/2. Bulls at 3 1/2, canners at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2. The high water in the mountains last week prevented a good many cattle from getting here.

SALES.

Tuglies & Co., sold thirteen 450 lb steers to Sid Hart at 4 cts.

Bonee Wade bought a bunch of 900 lb cows of Sam Keeton at 3 cts.

Jno. Brown sold 40 yearlings to R. Frann, of Ashland, Ky., at $31 per head, 4 1/2 cts.

Lyman & Co. bought a lot of 1,000 lb bulls at 3 cts.

L. Fannin, of Boyd county bought twenty-two 600 lb yearlings of Crouch & Co. at $25 per head.

Stuffed & Co. bought a bunch of cows to Sarge & Co., of Lexington at 3 cts.

Bob. McKelney sold nine 500 lb cattle to P. Stephens for J. B. Good-paster, of Bath county at 4 cts.

The Vannmeter bought yoke of 2,700 lb cattle of Stafford & Co. at 4 cts.

Clay Turner sold sixteen 600 lb steers to Miles McKee, of Cynthiana at 4.20.

Crouch & Co. sold four 800 lb steers to O. Curry, of Clark county at 4 cts.

L. Fannin, of Boyd county bought a bunch of 550 lb steers of Moss Bros. at $40.

John. Pritchard, of Ashland bought 45 yearling steers 400 lb at 4 cts.

Messrs. Fannin, of Boyd county bought 130 yearlings heifers paying for steers about 4 1/2, heifers at 3.40 to 3.75.

Bob. McKelney bought yoke of 2,300 lb at $10.

Jno. L. Vile sold yoke 2,150 lb cattle to Mr. Allen, of Clark county, at 4 cts.

John. Wade sold yoke 2,000 lb cattle to W. M. Jones, of Bourbon county at 4.35.

Laythorn & Crouch sold four 1,000 lb steers to Thos. Ryborn, of Clark county at 4.40.

Same party sold Harvey Rogers a yoke of 3,300 lb cattle at 4.60.

Tuglies & Co. sold twenty 450 lb heifers to O. E. Bush, of Clark county at 3 1/2.

HORSE AND MULE MARKET.

The mule market was about as last Court Day. Not a great many for sale. One nice pair of 16 1/2 mare mules sold at $200.

Another pair of 15-3 horse mules at $160.

Sales ranged from $40 for pligs to $100 for fair mules.

The horse market was slow, some few sales of pligs at low prices.

Some fairly good horses at $80 to $100.

Lewis Hytton, of Ezel, sold a pair of mules for $135.

Mr. Walker Whiteside is booked for an engagement in this city at Grand Opera House to-morrow night. He has secured a play founded on M. Ponsard's great drama, "Lion Amoureux," which will be known henceforth in its English dress as "The Red Cockade." This play is a romantic comedy-drama full of heart interest and fine dramatic situations. It is aristocratic in tone and has for the past few years been considered the best play at the Theatre Francaise in Paris. The company maintains the same high degree of excellence that has characterized Mr. Whiteside's companies in the past, including such well-known players as John M. Swenson, Frederick L. Power, John C. Hart, Gray B. Towler, Laurence Griffith, Richard Wallace, Miss Lella Wolston, Miss Grace Hadrell, Miss Elizabeth Hunt and Miss Antonette Walker.

Robt. T. Marshall, of Mt. Carmel, has sold to the Kauwaha Hardwood Company, of Charleston, W. Va., a oak lumber from a tract of 280 acres of virgin white oak which is estimated will make 3,000,000 feet of lumber, at from $10 to $34 per 1,000 feet, according to grade, and the total will amount to not less than $50,000. The lumber is to be sawed and delivered on board the cars at Mayville.

KENTUCKY FLASHES.

Driver Only High Water.

HANCOCKBURG, Ky., Jan. 16.—The rain of three days' duration still continues, and the small creek that passes through the center of Hancockburg is a quarter of a mile wide in several places. More than half of the colored people living along the creek have been driven from their homes on account of the high water. Salt River is spreading over the bottom lands along its course, swelling up bridges, forcing, shock fodder and ruining whole fields of growing wheat. Not in 40 years have the streams of Mercer county been so high.

Coal Dealers Indicted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 16.—The Franklin county grand jury has returned an indictment against the Frankfort Coal Dealers' association, comprising all the retail coal men in the city, charging conspiracy to create a monopoly in the coal business. Following a convulse war last year, they entered into a conspiracy to raise prices, which has been maintained. They were indicted at that time, and the last indictment charges a continuance of the offense.

Killed by an Iron Bar.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—August Kirm, an iron molder, was presented in the city court Friday morning charged with having murdered James E. Barnett, a fellow workman, by striking him over the head with a bar of iron during an altercation, fracturing his skull. Barnett's dying statement accused Kirm, and a witness also testified against him. The case was passed.

Louisville Gas Price.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—The price of gas in Louisville will not be decreased during the next five days. The report of the arbitrators who examined the condition of the company and fixed the price, showed that the company has not earned the eight per cent. necessary before a reduction can be made.

Asphalt Road Found.

MOREHEAD, Ky., Jan. 14.—A large bed of asphalt has been discovered in the northern end of Rowan county adjoining Carter and near the C. & O. railroad. Specimens of the asphalt have been analyzed and tested, and found to be of superior quality. A company will be formed at once to work the mine.

Kentucky Streams Ragging.

RICHMOND, Ky., Jan. 14.—As a result of the high water, in Kane Run the lower portion of this city is submerged and a number of families living in Powell's Valley had to abandon their homes Friday. The continuous rains of the past 24 hours have put all the streams in the State in a ragging. The Kentucky river is higher than for years.

Brown's Candidate.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—Hon. John Young Brown has just announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination of governor of Kentucky is a matter of a few days only. There is no doubt that he will announce his candidacy.

Returned From Hawaii.

OVERLAND, Ky., Jan. 14.—Three years ago a young man of the name of Leach disappeared from his home in Leach county, near here, leaving a wife and baby. He has just returned from the Hawaiian Islands and says he is home to stay.

Gen. Lawton in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—Gen. Henry W. Lawton is in Louisville visiting relatives, en route to Washington and New York. He will sail from New York for Manila on the transport Grant, January 17.

Let us be Remembered.

RICHMOND, Ky., Jan. 14.—The Madison County Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will celebrate Gen. Robert E. Lee's birthday, January 16. Several addresses will be made by prominent speakers.

Fell Upon a Saw.

MONTICELLO, Ky., Jan. 14.—Ballinger Coffey, a popular young man of this county, while acting as sawyer at his mill Friday, fell upon the saw. He was mangled almost beyond recognition, dying instantly.

Hearings Postponed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—The hearing of the Kentucky bank tax cases before the supreme court has been postponed from January 30 to February 9, on account of the absence of the date first set of Justice Brewer.

Swede Taken to France.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—John Massey, 34, a Swede, was caught in moving machinery at Asher's sawmill, this place, and completely torn to pieces. He had been in America only a short while and was unmarried.

Sam M. Parker a Candidate.

MOREHEAD, Ky., Jan. 14.—Sam M. Parker, ex-county superintendent and a prominent local politician, has announced himself a candidate for the legislature from the Bath-Rowan district on the democratic ticket.

Popular Will Made.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—The popular state committee has been called to meet here February 1. It is stated authoritatively that the party will not put out a state ticket this year.

Don't Gen. Wheeler.

The people of the United States, who entertain sincere admiration for Gen. Wheeler were gratified when several weeks back, he announced his purpose, after considering the subject thoroughly, either to resign his military office or give up his seat in Congress. We breathed easier. We did not want to see him jeopardize his high reputation for courage and unselfish patriotism which he had so bravely won. We warn him, in all kindness, that if he shall finally consent to hold his office, he will establish a most perilous precedent. If one Major General may hold a seat in Congress, so may 100. The spectacle would shock the theory of our Democratic institutions. It would look too much like Oliver Cromwell entering parliament with his soldiers; or too much like bayonets in our State Legislatures after the war—a feature of reconstruction which Gen. Wheeler has always deplored and denounced.

Don't do it, Gen. Wheeler! You have not a sincere friend south of the Ohio, or north of it, who would not deeply regret such a course on your part. It has been said in a spirit of bitterness, perhaps, that Lieut. Holborn "threw his fame away" in a few days. That assured that if you decide to sit, a Major General in the halls of Congress, your fame will lose 90 per cent. in public estimation. That Major General's coat will stick to you through life like the shirt of Nessus. It will, right or wrong, seem that, after all, you accepted your military commission, not for glory, but for gain; not for patriotism, but for self. Let some other Major General set this most pernicious example. That $7,500 a year for the shoulder straps, added to the $5,000 as Congressman, would be tempting to men of small repnte, but you are not able to afford it. Don't do it, Gen. Wheeler!

In a speech, referring to the South, in that Senate ten years ago, the Hon. George F. Hoar said:

"I know, too, when I say these things that I am saying them of my countrymen. They have some qualities which I can not even presume to claim in an equal degree for the people among whom I myself dwell. They have an aptness for command which makes the Southern gentleman, when he goes, not a peer only, but a prince. They have the glow of home. They have not the mean traits that grow up somewhere in places where money-making is the chief end of life. They have, above all, and giving value to all, that supreme and unobscured tenacity which, without regard to personal ambition, without yielding to the temptation of wealth, without getting tired, and without getting diverted, can pursue a great public object in and out, year after year, and generation after generation. In the great future which the hundred million and two hundred million who are to inhabit and rule this continent are to enjoy, the greatest and most glorious part, my brethren, is to be acted by you."

Let not him who comes from the South be first to tarnish the fair name bestowed by the magnanimous New England statesman.

PERSONAL.

W. H. Tucker, of Clark county, was in the city Monday.

W. M. Karkick, of White Sulphur, Bath county, was in the city yesterday.

Last week Mrs. Anna Tipton visited her aunt, Mrs. Christian, at Chillicothe.

Mrs. T. K. Barnes spent Thursday at Winchester with her sister, Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Butler Carrington, on Thursday, went to visit friends in Fayette county.

Mr. Edward Boyd, of Carlisle, spent Sunday and Monday in the city with friends.

Clark Bascom and Pete Stoner, of Bath county, spent Sunday and Monday in the city.

Carl Mize, of Hazel Green, spent some days last week with his uncle, J. Green Trimble.

Mrs. N. A. Wilkerson is visiting relatives in Ripley, Ohio, and will be absent two weeks.

W. T. Daugherty, of Evansville, Ind., formerly of Owingsville, was in the city yesterday.

David Prewitt and wife spent Saturday with his mother in Shelby, before her departure for Europe.

Mrs. Stamper Dickey, of Hill Top, Fleming county, was in the city the first of the week visiting relatives.

Mrs. Bruce Trimble and Miss Mary Cassidy, on Thursday, went to Winchester to visit her sister for a week.

Chas. B. Lindsey leaves today with his brother, J. H. Lindsey, for Sturgis, Mo., where he will make his home.

Mrs. W. R. Scott and Mrs. M. G. Talbot, of North Middletown, were in the city one day last week with friends.

W. B. Payne, of Andros, Mo., passed through the city on Thursday to visit his uncle, Peter Stoner, near Sharpsburg.

Among the visitors to our city yesterday from North Middletown we noticed John S. Talbot, Wm. Young and C. W. Gilker.

Mrs. Linnie Meadows and Mrs. Camille Alvis are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Mitchell.

W. W. Meadows and his bright and beautiful little daughter, Mary, accompanied them.

Judge S. W. Hager, of Ashland, candidate for State Treasurer, was in the city Monday. He is a pleasant, affable business man, and is highly recommended as a correct citizen.

Mr. C. W. Jones, of St. Louis, is here attending his father's funeral. The other son, Prof. C. C. Jones, of Missouri State University, on account of sickness could not come. They are the only surviving children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Jones.

Safety Question.

Squire John A. Daugherty in the announcement of his candidacy struck a popular note in declaring for a reduction of the fixed salaries of the county officers. There is hardly a doubt that it elicits in the minds of the taxpayers a substantial majority of the taxpayers. At present the salary of the County Judge is $1,000, besides the valuable perquisites. Judge Ewing, the wealthiest man in the county, and with multifarious cares, served the people for $400 per year, and thought it enough, yet to him personally the time and thought he devoted to the people's interests were worth several thousand to him. "Pray without ceasing."

There are five hundred members of the Christian Endeavor Society in the Frankfort penitentiary.

Rev. Hildebrandt, of Lexington, has been appointed to preach at Antioch on each second Sunday.

Mr. W. M. White, of Midway, on Monday last week, began a meeting at the Christian church in Owingsville.

The series of sermons preached by Rev. Leftwich at the Methodist church are very interesting. The congregation on Sunday morning was especially affected. The weather has been very disagreeable, thus interfering with the attendance.

Mr. Fred Wallis, of Louisville, State Superintendent of Prison Work by the Christian Endeavor Society, made a most interesting talk on prison work at the Winchester Christian church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Elmer Atwood, of Georgetown, preached to the Sharpsburg Baptist Church on last Sunday morning and evening, filling the pulpit of Rev. Edward Stubbfield, now sick at Mt. Sterling. Mr. Stubbfield's condition has very much improved.

Owingsville has some precocious kids. The medal-wearer among them is a tot about six years old. His exploits are numerous. One day recently he was at a blacksmith shop pounding away earnestly like he was producing something important. A minister passing by saw him and stopped to holler him. The minister demanded: "Why were you not at Sunday-school last Sunday?" The child never stopped nor looked up, but replied: "I've got no time to fool with my Sunday-school!" The minister passed.

The following invitation will be sent out during the week by the Baptist church:

National Israel used to gather annually at Jerusalem for sacrifice and thanksgiving. These yearly reunions greatly strengthened Jewish patriotism and quickened their national life. God has been wonderfully good to us during our church life. Of course we are grateful for all His mercies. Shall we not give some expression of our gratitude? It is proposed that we make the approaching anniversary of the organization of our church the occasion of a general reunion of our membership, hence—

You are cordially invited and urgently requested to be present at the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church for the morning services at 10:30 Sunday, February 12, 1896.

MARRIAGES.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Two weeks ago we announced the engagement of S. M. Newmeyer, of this city, to Miss Jennie, daughter of Rabbi Moses, of Louisville. The wedding day has been decided upon, and it is with pleasure we publish the announcement—March 8, 1896. Miss Moses is really a cultured woman and her home in this city will be the means of frequent visits by her gifted father, Rabbi Moses, who has a reputation among the literary figures of this country. We hope to have an opportunity to listen to his lectures, which have made him famous. Mt. Sterling's citizens will gladly welcome Miss Moses as the bride of our esteemed friend and business man, and Mr. Newmeyer is to be congratulated in winning this fine woman as his life partner.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

On March 15th at the home of the bride's parents in Louisville, Miss Claudine Brann will be married to Mr. Joe Bloomfield, a successful business man, of Owingsville. Miss Brann will be remembered here by our people as the bright and beautiful little daughter of S. Brann, who lived here about seven years ago. Miss Brann has become a handsome and stylish woman of culture and Mr. Bloomfield is to be congratulated.

Burglars Arrested.

Sunday morning officers here had a message from authorities at Carlisle to the effect that the safe of Adams Express Company had been burglarized and that the parties suspected (giving their description) had gone to the direction of Mt. Sterling. Vigilant officers were on the alert and parties following the description walked right up and put their halos on. The arrest was made by W. S. Reeves and in a short time thereafter they were breathlessly taken from behind iron bars. The burglars gave their names as Thomas Churchhill, Columbia Maryland and Curtis Kimball, Louisville.

At Carlisle they succeeded in getting from $150 to $175 and a ladies watch. When arrested they had a revolver each, and $55.84 in gold, silver, paper, nickels and pennies and the ladies gold watch. Their gloves were worse than sticks when our police force came upon them. At first they seemed possessed with a disposition to use them, but quickly concluded the best thing was to take quarters in Siedd's hotel. They came here by way of Sharpsburg in a lively turn-out and their story was that their buggy had broken down between Carlisle and Sharpsburg and that they had sold their horse. They were in hopes of catching a fast train going West and were much disappointed when they learned the first train would not leave until 4:30 in the afternoon. They had started out for a walk down the railroad track when arrests were made.

Mr. W. H. Harris, the Carlisle Express Agent, and Marshal Dunn, of same city, were here yesterday and identified the prisoners as the suspects.

The case against them is a clear one, and their chances to escape the pen are quite slim. They will be taken to Carlisle to-day.

It Matters Not.

The furnace at the Baptist church has been put in excellent repair and it matters not how cold it may get the room will be comfortable.

The Montgomery Democratic County Committee is hereby called to meet at Chambers Station, in Menefee county, on Thursday, January 26, 1896, at 10 o'clock a.m., for the purpose of fixing the time, place and manner of nominating a Democratic Representative for the counties of Montgomery and Menefee in the next General Assembly of Kentucky. It is important that every member should be present or by proxy.

ROBT. MARSHALL,
Chairman.

Sunday at noon the neighbors of Mr. A. W. Sutton were shocked over the report that he had fallen and was dying. The attack was vertigo. We are glad to report that he is now able to be out and about his business as usual.

Willie Hunt has accepted position as general delivery clerk at the post office.

THE SICK.

R. M. Coons and wife are sick.

Mrs. J. Davis Sewell is seriously ill.

Mr. W. J. Bolin is very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith have the gripe.

Dr. Frank Johnson, of Winchester, is seriously sick.

Mrs. Henry Jones, of this city, has had the grip for a week.

Mr. J. W. Hadden, who has been confined to her room with gripe the past two weeks, is improving.

Mrs. Alwill Steele, Sarepta Steele and James Markland, all of Flat Creek, were sick at last report.

Mr. Shelly Smith, engineer in the Advocate Publishing Rooms, is off duty, having been struck by gripe.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Jas. D. Tipton continues very sick. Her demise at any time would not be a surprise.

We are pleased to state that Allen Prewitt, son of Clinton Prewitt, who has been sick for two months, is improving nicely and will soon be on his feet.

Rev. F. B. Walker, pastor of the Christian church at Winchester, on Monday went to see his father, who is very sick at his home in Indiana.

Born, on the 13th instant, to Wm. Amyn and wife, twin daughters.

Too Bad!

To a person who remembers the reputation that Kentuckyans have for chivalry and attention to the ladies, it is painful to visit the Opera House and see the number of unmarried ladies that come without other escort than their father, brother, or with their married sisters. We don't know whether it is a lack of chivalry or a lack that prevents the young men from accompanying them, but it seems to the Frowler that when the young ladies escort themselves to entertain the young men in the parlor, at the expense of fuel, light, etc., that the opportunity for reciprocation would come when standard attractions are at the Opera House, and the ladies should not be forced to attend alone—The Winchester Democrat.

Regardless of Age.

The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering, and deaths than any other organs of the body.

A majority of the ills afflicting people today is traceable to kidney trouble. It pervades all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often day or night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid, or brick-dust deposit in urine are signs of clogged kidneys, causing poisoned and germ-filled blood. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and the waste (wasting of the kidneys) are found in the urine, which if neglected will result in Bright's Disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It has a wide world reputation for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp-Root, and a book telling all about it, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and kindly mention you read this liberal offer in the THE MT. STERLING ADVOCATE.

I Didn't Intend.

It was Sam Tapp who concluded he would be smart with Foley's peanut roaster. The machine is on wheels and he started it down the pavement running it over the curbing upsetting and rendering it useless. For this offence Tapp is out on bail saying "I didn't intend to do it."

A GREAT record of cures, now qualified in medical history, proves Hock's Sarsaparilla possesses merit unknown to any other MEDICINE.

DEATHS.

WALSH.

At Rathwell, on Sunday night, Edward Walsh, aged 55, died of pneumonia.

HAYS.

Rev. John S. Hays, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Mayeville, and founder of the Mayeville Seminary, died at Mayeville.

LOONEY.

At his home in Lexington on Wednesday morning, January 11, 96, Mr. Patrick Looney, aged 85 years, died after a long illness. The body was brought to this city on Friday morning for burial. He is the father of J. B. Looney, formerly of this city and of Mrs. Jan. Feehan.

DECAFT.

Mrs. Elizabeth Decaff, aged 67 years, died at her home at Howard's Mill on the 7th inst. She was a patient sufferer for several years, and was a devoted mother and pious Christian. She leaves eight children who have the sympathy of a host of friends. Her remains were laid to rest at Union graveyard beside her husband who died about nine years ago. "Blessed are they who die in the Lord."

JONES.

Daniel R. Jones, died at his home in this city on Monday morning at 7 o'clock, January 16, 1896. He had been an invalid for several years with rheumatism. He had been confined to the house, not even going to the yard, since September, 1895 and had been in bed since March, 1897. He was born in Bath county, July 17, 1819. Before his marriage he lived in Clark county a few years, where he was elected Sheriff. He has been twice married. In 1849 he married Miss Mary Grove, of Bath county, sister of Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman of this city. She died in 1859 leaving a daughter, Miss Mary, who married Walter Boyd. He was for about four years a merchant in Sharpsburg. He moved to the country where he lived when in 1853 he was married to Miss Margaret Comingo, his present wife. To them were born four sons, of whom two, Prof. J. C. Jones, of Missouri University at Columbia, and Condit Jones, of St. Louis, are still living. In 1968 the family moved to Franklin county, where they lived until 1893, when they returned to Sharpsburg. They moved to this city in 1894 and have since lived here.

Mr. Jones united with the Presbyterian church at Sharpsburg in 1859, under the ministry of Rev. Robt. Caldwell. He served as Elder of his congregation for many years. During the years of severe affliction he has patiently borne the pain and his necessary confinement. He has entered into that rest which awaits the people of God. His suffering is over. "Thou better to depart and be with Christ, whom we love more, served and trusted. The funeral will be held at the residence this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. D. Clark. Burial in Macpherson cemetery.

His son, Prof. Jones, is sick and could not come. His son, Condit, was with him when death came.

HENRY.

Monday morning Mr. W. S. Henry, of Howard's Mill was as well as usual and had arranged to come to this place on business, he being Court-day. He left his residence and went down to the Storeroom, there to wait for his son to bring his horse. He complained of being sick and in a moment without warning he sank to the floor, and was dead. W. S. Henry was fifty-five years old, was a twin brother of Thomas J. Henry who at one time was Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

He was a member of the Confederate Veterans Association of this city, and a member of the Howard's Mill Baptist church, was a soldier of the Confederacy, Ordnance Brigade, Lieut. Company C, 5th Ky., infantry and was wounded at battle at Princeton, and Resaca, Ga.

His remains will be buried in Macpherson Cemetery Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. He leaves a wife and ten children, four sons Thos. C., of Lexington, J. H. with the 4th Kentucky, Patrick and Volney of this county; six daughters Mrs. Nannie Adams, of Lexington, Mrs. J. W. Peed, of Chaptank, Tenn., Misses Ruth, Nora, Willie and Susie at home. After services at the grave, the Confederate Association will conclude with honors.

Reduction in Cloaks.

Every wrap in this house will now be offered for less than COST. We do not want to carry a single one over, and will not if cutting the life out of the price will avail anything. We expect to lose money on every Wrap sold from now on. Do you want one?

New Umbrellas.

Have come to Hand. Don't you need one? Artistic handle effects add to Umbrella beauty. The extensiveness of the assortment is only equalled by the worthiness of the Umbrellas and the little prices. Couldn't bring such exquisite and novel designs within the reach of prudent buyers before. Able to order only by placing large orders. Yours to benefit.

Dress Goods.

RARE VALUES.

We have placed on the "marked-down" list many excellent values in order to reduce the stock. Like the Cloaks we will not carry them over, and have marked them to make them go. They are not shoddy stuff, but real bargains at the prices marked.

Blanket Goodness.

We take care that only good wools, inodorous wools, get into the blankets we sell. Comfort demands that they shall be fully warm and pleasant to both soul and touch. Of course, all blankets are not-wool, but whatever the kind or quality, you can rely on our statements in reference thereto.
